

PA Resident Duties and Supervision

Purpose

It is the policy of the Emergency Medicine PA Residency Training Program that there should be one PA resident assigned to the ED in order to provide the ED a 1.0 FTE PA position. This may not be possible at all times due to off service requirements.

Responsibilities

ED Schedule

PA residents are scheduled for all required residency-related activities. The schedule for the Emergency Department is developed by the Medical Director and Program Director. Once the schedule is completed, it is disseminated to all PA residents for review.

PA residents are to be available for their assigned activities as listed on the ED schedule.

PA residents will average 45 clinical hours per week in the ED and average one day off a week over a 4 week period. The assigned day off will not be on a conference day.

Schedule and call for off-service rotations are described in the letter of understanding between Emergency Medicine and each department. The specific schedule is determined by the off-service department

Patient Care Responsibilities

PA resident patient care activities will always be supervised by faculty or Jr /faculty (EM or off-service). The PA resident will be given patient care responsibilities commensurate with level of training and demonstrated skills and experience. Faculty will be available at all times for consultation and guidance. Adequate back-up will be available at all times in case of sudden and unexpected patient or PA resident needs which could jeopardize patient care.

Oversight

It is the responsibility of the Medical Director or Program Director to review all rotations and PA resident schedules to assure that duty hours and responsibilities are appropriately assigned. The Medical Director shall immediately take whatever corrective action is needed to assure compliance with these policies and procedures.

Rotation Coordinators

It is the responsibility of the Rotation Liaison and Coordinator to assure that an appropriate training experience is offered to the PA resident consistent with the learning objectives and the resident duties of the rotation as set forth in the Rotation Description. The Medical Director and Program Director will review the rotation objectives and the resident duties with the rotation liaison to ensure that the appropriate training experience is offered. This includes assistance with scheduling of activities, provision of adequate resources, and appropriate teaching and oversight.
